

Sociological Theory

Course Description:

An examination of important founders of sociological theory: Herbert Spencer, Karl Marx, Max Weber, Georg Simmel, Emile Durkheim, and George Herbert Mead. We will concentrate on their substantive analyses regarding the emergence of the modern world: the growth of industrialism, post-industrialism, and capitalism, the emergence of democracy and the modern nation state, and the new forms of social relations and value systems under these conditions. Our approach will be historical and comparative, relating the theories to concrete developments rather than only the history of social thought or philosophy. Certain methodological issues will also be discussed regarding theory construction and the nature of a sociological account.

LSU Description:

SOCL 3101 Sociological Theory (3). Prereq.: SOCL 2001 or equivalent. Open to sociology majors; open to others with permission of instructor. Dominant theorists and schools of thought in sociology.

Course Requirements:

The course will consist partly of lectures and partly of discussion. Students should always have read the assignments and come prepared for discussion.
